We, the yearbook staff, dedicate the 1976-77 Yearbook to Mr. Roberts and Mr. Taylor, our Principal and Vice Principal. They have helped and encouraged us with the yearbook and newspaper above and beyond their call of duty. It has been an honor and priviledge to work with these excellent administrators this year.

The Publications Staff

Principal's Message

This year has been a new experience for all of us here at West Campus. For the first time, West Campus has had a junior high school group, so we should look forward to seeing some familiar faces next year and in the years to follow. Still some of our student body will be leaving us and we wish them success and the best of luck in the future.

This year should truly be kept in memory as one of change and progress, and it has been a pleasure having you all. Again, I would like to extend my best wishes to the ninth graders, and we will look forward to seeing the seventh and eighth graders again next year.

Have a great summer,

Kenneth W. Roberts

The student council for West Campus was set up to organize activities for the students. Elections were held the first semester, but the student council had to appoint some people to fill up the empty seats. The president was Ted Lee, with Wesley Hicks serving as vice-president-treasurer. Barbara Oldershaw was elected as the social activities Coordinator. To fill up the position of Secretary, the council appointed Alan Weil. The positions of ninth grade representatives were filled by Carla Brooks, Kenny O'neal, and Craig Sommerville. The three eighth grade representatives were Leona Bailey, Vincent Washington and Johanna Wolgast. The four elected seventh grade representatives were Allison Bernstein, Matthew Borsch, Dennis Gaxiola, and Craig Walker.

During the school year 1976-1977, the student council organized a trip to Great America, a talent show, and a dance. The student Council helped replace the stereo. The council also undertook the arduous task of writing a constitution.

In Council

In the second semester, there was no election. Since the office of president was the only one where there was any competition, it was decided by the fall student council, by a vote of 7-2, that the two candidates would split the term. The rest of the students kept their terms for the entire semester. For the first 9 weeks, Alan Weil was president, with Carla Brooks acting as vice-president. These two positions changed at this time. The other members were as follows: Glenda Gillian was social activities coordinator. Ted Lee was appointed treasurer, while Craig Somerville was appointed secretary. There were no ninth or eighth grade representatives, all places for seventh grade representatives were filled by Wenceslao Batiz-Vegas, Merlin Edwards, Dennis Gaxiola and Kathryn Cornsweet. The student Council moved that a Parliamentarian be chosen, and that duty was relegated to Alison Bernstein.

ADV. DRAMA

On Thursday, March 17th, the cast of the West Campus production of a comedy musical revue entitled "Do A Review" gathered at the BHS Little Theatre Stage. It was opening night, and the anticipation showed in the faces of all.

It was an hour before curtain time, and as the time crept closer the cast was was busy warming up in various ways, reciting suddenly forgotten lines and applying last minute touches of make-up. As they filed backstage, 5 minutes before curtain time, a comment from one of the boys..."Hey, the girls all look like whores!" (referring to their widely applied make-up.) and relieving some of the tension. A moment later Mr. Felker brought it back again with his pointed comment "You'll do great...right?"

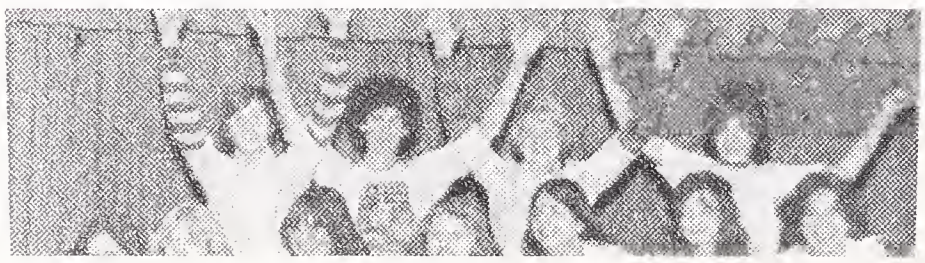
As the lights came up the cast opened the production with a bright and cheerful musical number--"Do a Review"and all anxiety was seemingly gone.

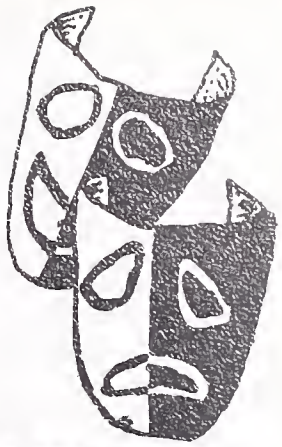
The fairly large audience was equally enthusiastic through the rest of the show which included the following:

"Of Father and Sons," a satirical comedy on the play "The Death of a Salesman" starred Ken Lupoff, Naomi Walker and Bruce Saldinger.

"No Small Parts," was a funny, chaotic farce about a Broadway show, ruined by an overly-helpful maid. This starred Jane King, Ken Lupoff, Leah Korican, and Steen Sellers.

"Spermatazon" was a scene about a teacher trying to teach her overly eager students about sex education. It starred Marty Gaustad and Serge Wilson, Mimi Steiner and Scott Kuby.





"Hello" was an all cast musical focusing on Leza Lowitz who played a dumb starlet making her nightclub debut.

"Nest Interview" showed Kate Laner as the same dumb starlet in a radio interview.

Next came "Sunday Brunch," featuring the entire cast, a rythmical parallel on the social gathering.

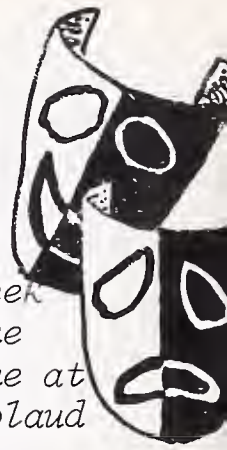
"The High and the Flighty"came next, a comedy aobut a clumsy stewardess and her jittery passengers, starring Debbie Sopher, Sara Donahue, Lisa Safran, Erin Clark, and Alex Webb.

"Desert Passion" was a take-off on the silent movies with dubbed-in sound such as those popular in the 30's, starring Alex Webb, Thalia Drori, Polly Leider, Maude Winchester, Scott Kuby, and Steen Sellers.

The show was concluded with a flashy certain call.

On Friday, the 2nd and last performance went smoothly and the cast, tired but happy, thought of their two up-coming plays: "The Little Foxes," and "Women in Sheakespeare."

DRAMA CONTEST



The Drama plays were performed for the first time this year during the week of March 21-25, after a three-week practice period, before an audience of the eighth and ninth grade Advanced Drama class. Since the performances were done at lunch people who were neither grading nor performing often dropped in to applaud friends.

The actors were graded on memorization, characterization, movement, rapport with fellow characters, voice (projection, clarity, character), costumes, choice of play, staging and tempo. The best an actor could get was a ten for each of these.

The excerpts from the plays, including the actors, were performed in this order:

Monday: Zoo Story: Alex Nowik, Aaron Partridge
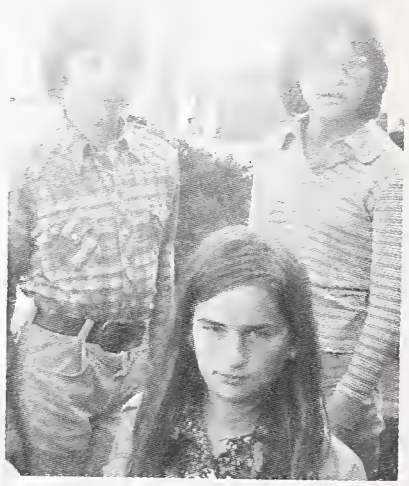
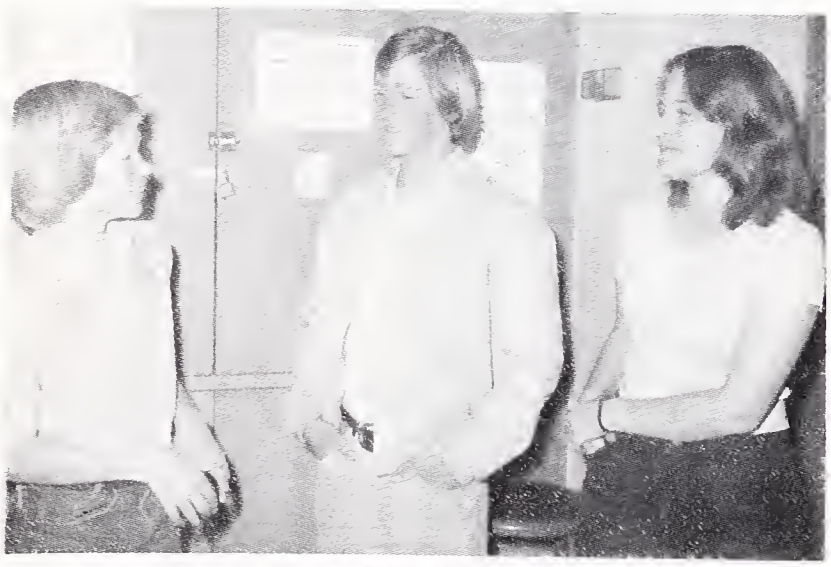
Dark at the Top of the Stairs: Debbie Jones, Lynn Parker
Member of the Wedding: Jenny Landsberg, Steven Tiffin
Glass Menagerie: Celia Cody, Michele Rabkin





Can you imagine... Mr. Slater being turned down by the Mickey Mouse Club?

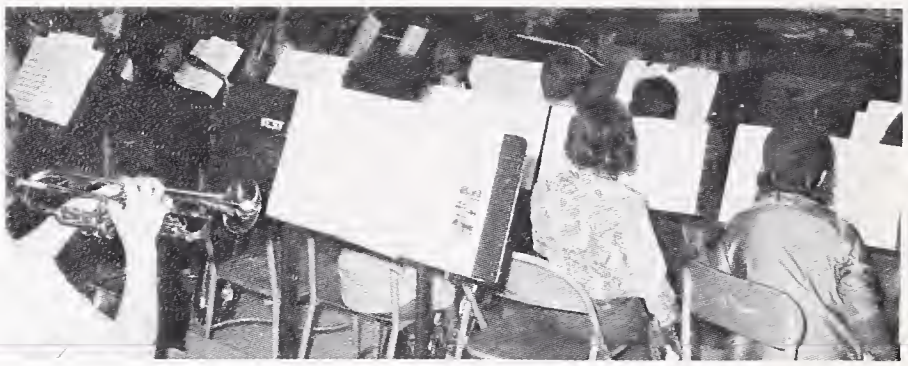
ASHLAND

Mr. Scrofani took a group of ninth graders to Ashland Oregon recently. They left with pillows and suitcases at 8:30 on St. Patrick's Day morning and returned Saturday, March 19th. In Ashland they saw two plays, Shakespeare's Measure for Measure and the contemporary play, A Taste of Honey. The only complaints the students had were about the food on the trip, otherwise, the trip seemed to have pleased them all.

Mr. Mulholland accompanied the group also as he has done a number of times on past Ashland trips.

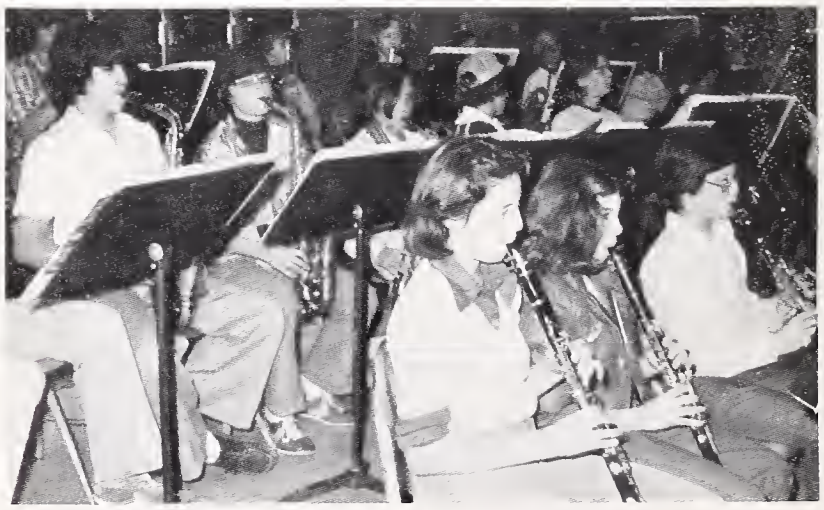


Music

Symphonic

Band

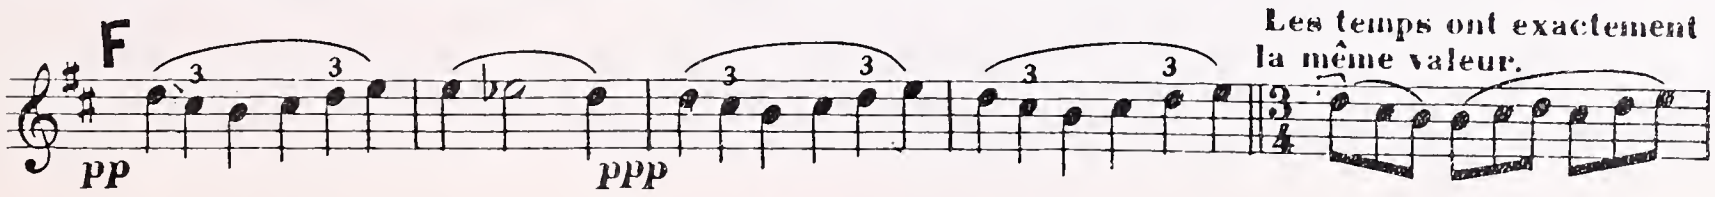
Nicholas Xenelis



Band Year in Review

1976-77 was a good year for the West Campus band. Under the direction of Nick Xenelis, the band got very good and played in about six concerts. One of the best of these was a concert as B.H.S., when the West Campus band, the King band, and both Berkeley High bands played two pieces together. It was an impressive performance.

One of the best points of the band was the great variety of instruments. Besides the usual clarinets, flutes, trumpets, and trombones, there was an oboe, four kinds of saxaphones, a bass clarinet, a bassoon, some french horns, two baritones, and a tuba. Together all the different instruments sounded very well together.



Jazz Band

The Jazz Band is made up of members of the Symphonic and Concert Bands who are interested in Jazz. It gives the players a chance to perform good jazz of the 1930's and '40's. Most of the music they play is written by their conductor, Phil Hardymon.

Larry Nobori

Concert Band

The Concert band has performed some Scott Joplin pieces in a few concerts under the direction of Mr. Nobori. Members of the concert Band also played in the massed band festival at B.H.S. on march 9, 1977.

Many students may not know this, but we had an Asian Student Union. The group was small, but still met every Tuesday, in room 101. They had several snow cone sales and a car wash that were fairly succesful, to raise funds for a year end project. They had a surprise dinner for their advisors. There are hopes that next year's group is larger and more ambitious.

DEBATE

This year 6 West Campus 9th Graders competed on the Berkeley High Speech and debate team. Four of the members debated continually all year while all 6 competed in other types of speech competition.

The six speakers: Craig Somerville, Alan Weil, Serge Wilson, Ted Lee, Robert Bolt, and Marriana Tubmann, competed in Individual Events and Student Congress. Craig, Alan, Serge, and Ted also competed in Debate.

They all traveled to Cresent City, and three went down to Los Angeles twice to compete. While in the Bay Area, they competed in the Golden Gate Speech Association tournaments against 49 other schools.

Craig, Alan, and Serge got to participate in either the National or State Qualifying Tournaments. This year all six of the members can say that they will continue next year.

S.R.V.

School Resource Volunteers is a non-profit organization under contract with the Berkeley Unified School District to provide volunteer services in the city's schools. SRV's are college students, interested members of the community, parents, senior citizens - most of them working on a regular basis with one or more children. Also part of SRV is the Community Resource Service, which provides single or short-term presentations by volunteer specialists in a variety of fields.

I.W.E.

Internal Work Experience is a program that incorporates approximately 225 students. The students work in the school, and are assigned to whomever needs them. They do clerical work, typing, filing, run machines. I.W.E. has many especially good typists. The students usually have no homework, no exams, and they get 5 credits.

The Mathematics, Engineering, and Science Achievement Program was set up by West Campus and the University of California Berkeley Engineering Department. The purpose of the program is to encourage minority students to enter technical fields. Participants are provided with tutors, and they go on special field trips.

SKI CLUB

SKI CLUB

Due to a bad snow season and Mr. Valtr's usually incompatible schedule, the ski club went on only one trip. Their trip was a real success. There was one good day of snow, no hassles, and everyone had lots of fun. There was one sickness and one injury. The ski club has 50 members. Mr. Valtr looks forward to a better season next year.
